

By: Angela Johnson

CoughDrop is a communication application that aims to provide a voice for any and all individuals who may have difficulties communicating on their own. This affordable resource supports integration all members of the individual's team, including therapists, caregivers, and other communicators in their life by allowing anyone to make modifications, write session notes and message on their own devices.

Vendor: CoughDrop, Inc.

Cost: basic access-free, 2-month free trial then: communicator access- $6/mo. or $200 lifetime, supporter access- $25, eval access- $25

Availability: IOS, Android, Windows, Amazon, web browser

Languages: English, Spanish, German, Arabic, Dutch, Portuguese, French, Catalan, Czech, Danish, Swedish, Norwegian, Greek, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Chinese, Polish, Russian, and Turkish – translation feature included

Access Options: direct selection, eye or head tracking and switch use

Voice Options: pitch, rate and volume are all adjustable

Speech Settings: speech after selection, recording function

Display: customizable

Page Sets: customizable

Customization: templates and public boards available to customize

Features: built-in SMS and email, 2-way messaging, multiple devices allowed, cloud backup, compatible with lessonpix and PCS symbols

